Canada's Entrepreneurship Organization

Startup Canada promotes and supports the success and growth of Canada's 3.5 million entrepreneurs, with a mandate to foster economic growth, competitiveness, and prosperity through entrepreneurship. Since launching, Startup Canada's programming has directly supported more than 250,000 entrepreneurs and 50 grassroots Startup Community organizations. Working with over 750 ecosystem partners, including accelerators, incubators, research parks, educational institutions, economic development agencies, associations, and government programs, Startup Canada serves entrepreneurs from all backgrounds, industries, and stages of development, with a network reflective of Canada's diverse population.

About Startup Communities

Startup Canada Communities is Startup Canada's flagship program, supporting and connecting grassroots networks that fuel a culture and environment for entrepreneurship at the local level.

At the core, Startup Communities:

- Provide entrepreneurs with opportunities to connect with inspiration, support, mentors, financing, resources, customers, and partners;
- Bring together local entrepreneurship organizations to foster collaboration, information sharing, resource optimization, and ignite new opportunities; and,
- Connect to the national network to open up new partners, opportunities and initiatives to local entrepreneurs; grow exposure across Canada and globally; and have a voice in Ottawa.

Currently, there are nearly 20 Startup Canada Communities from coast-to-coast-to-coast.

Startup Canada provides the infrastructure to connect communities across the country to peer-support, advisors, funders and other important resources to strengthen the environment for entrepreneurship from bottom-up.

Through the network, Startup Canada Communities are able to provide and connect entrepreneurs to the resources they need by offering a roadmap to local and national resources and access to national programming and events.
